

From: NVC Academy training@nvctraining.com
Subject: Remembering Marshall Rosenberg
Date: February 12, 2015 at 6:56 PM
To: Todd Fuqua ctfonline@me.com

NA

Dear Friend,

It is with great sadness that I tell you that Marshall B. Rosenberg, founder of Nonviolent Communication, died February 7th surrounded by his loving wife, Valentina, and his children. He died in peace and surrounded by love.

Marshall and his work transformed so many lives, hundreds of thousands, living in countless countries, including my own. When I first met Marshall, I struggled in all my relationships and felt pretty constant inner turmoil, self-doubt and self-hatred. I was emotionally shut down most of the time and could rarely articulate my feelings or what I wanted.

Through Marshall and NVC, I and all my relationships have been utterly transformed. I understand today that my ability to imagine world peace is directly related to my ability to bring peace to my daily life and relationships. NVC has given me the tools for bringing that peace.

And, I am only one of thousands. Every person I come in contact with has benefited from Marshall's influence. Times that by hundreds of thousands and then again and again, and his impact to our world becomes countless, unimaginable, blessed and sacred.

Please join me in a moment of silence, a moment to reflect on how Marshall and NVC have affected your life, and then send your love to Marshall and his family.

There's no saying good-bye to Marshall. His work, passion and love live on without end through each of us. I couldn't be more grateful or in awe of that.

Bowing in respect, love and sadness,

Mary Mackenzie, CNVC Certified Trainer
Co-founder and Lead Trainer, NVC Academy

p.s. If you'd like to share a story of how Marshall touched your life, or to simply hold vigil in silence, please join a growing group of people by using the information below:

From the US or via SkypeOut dial +1 201-479-4595 and enter meeting number 27870906

From other countries, find local numbers here:
www.fuze.com/numbers?utm_source=Meeting-Invite
-then use the number for your country and enter the meeting number 27870906

If you have a fast internet connection and would like to join by computer with audio and video, download Fuze. https://www.fuze.com/download?utm_source=Meeting-Invite

Once FUZE is installed click this link <http://fuze.me/27870906> to join the call.

Please don't reply to this automated e-mail, it won't be seen by a person. Please contact our Help Desk for assistance by e-mail at help@nvcacademy.com. We will respond within 24 hours.

Manage your NVC Academy e-mail communication preferences.

Manage Your eNewsletter Subscriptions

Manage Your Areas of Interest

Unsubscribe completely from the NVC Academy (You will no longer receive any automated e-mail, including important messages regarding courses you have registered for)